Drive-in construction--

BUT will the show go on?

But if you can't get to it, how can you see the show?

Despite the fact that the courts must still decide whether access roads to a theater are part of the whole operation and not just "driveways", construction of the controversial drive-in theater in a county "island" off McGlincey Lane, adjacent to the freeway and Union Ave., has continued as the accompanying pictures testify.

OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

AS YOU READ THIS the election results will be firmed up and you will either be pleased or displeased or a little of both.

Because of deadline problems, The Press was on the press long before any issues were decided.

As we write this we don't even know what the "trend" is, which is what TV people, after checking their computers, so fondly call their analysis of the early returns.

This makes it rather difficult therefore, for us to present anything scintilating or original that pertains to the voting on Tuesday.

TO UPDATE OUR records, we note that the final report of the voter registration for Tuesday's election showed that there were 1568 more Democrats within the city limits than Republicans. (4962 to 3394).

Of passing interest was that there were 413 more Democrats registered for the general election than for the June primary and the Republicans obtained 416 more during the same period in town.

We would call that pretty even running between the GOPS and DEMS.

THAT TRICK OR TREAT routine on Halloween has now become pretty well established.

In most cases, when the little tykes hit the porch the residents are pretty cooperative.

There are some probably who get annoyed by the junior-grade goblins and the constant door-bell ringing that occurs on Halloween as the trick-or-treaters make their rounds.

But the householders generally resign themselves to their fate for the night and grin and bear it.

All of us have heard of some instances where a householder provoked by the screeches and jangling door bell has retaliated with special "treats".

Most of us, however, don't get too upset (or rather try not to show it) unless it is necessary to look up at the trick-or-treaters in the doorway instead of looking down on 'em.

It irks us no end to see a gangling goblin getting in on an act that should be strictly reserved for their kid brothers and sisters.

NOBODY REALLY should get too upset over the small fry.

F'instance a group of tiny goblins on the trick-or-treat circuit were ushered into the planning commission by Mrs. Joan Burmudes, police clerk, on Halloween night.

-0-

THE COMMISSIONERS greeted the interrupters cordially and after Mrs. Barbara Tracy, commission clerk, "paid off" the intruders with all-day suckers which she had the foresight to have on

Many join re-naming movement

More than 300 signatures on petitions requesting that the name of San Tomas School be changed to the "Jack C. Fischer School" have already been obtained, Mrs. Ray Vierra, of the "change-of-name committee", reported this week.

It is planned to submit the petitions to the trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District at the board's December meeting.

Committee members are leaders of a spontaneous movement that started shortly after the untimely death of Jack C. Fischer on Sept. 26. Fischer was principal of San Tomas School for 13 years and his death came as a shock to the entire community.

If the board agrees to the name-change, San Tomas will be the first of the 19 schools in the district to be designated for an individual. District policy has been to name schools after the streets on which they are located.

Downtown group wants Campbell Ave. improved

How best to improve downtown Campbell Ave. in 1967 was to be the subject of discussion today at an early morning joint meeting of the "Downtown Redevelopment Committee," city officials, property owners and representatives of public utility firms.

Prior to the meeting, John Faber, chairman of the downtown redevelopment committee, said that it appeared that a downtown off-street parking district was not feasible at this time. But he felt that the committee he has headed for the past two years should continue in existence to cooperate in any future improvement plans for Campbell Ave.

Faber emphasized that the committee, although unable to get the parking district formed, had served a useful purpose in focusing the attention on the future of the downtown area and the need for something to be done.

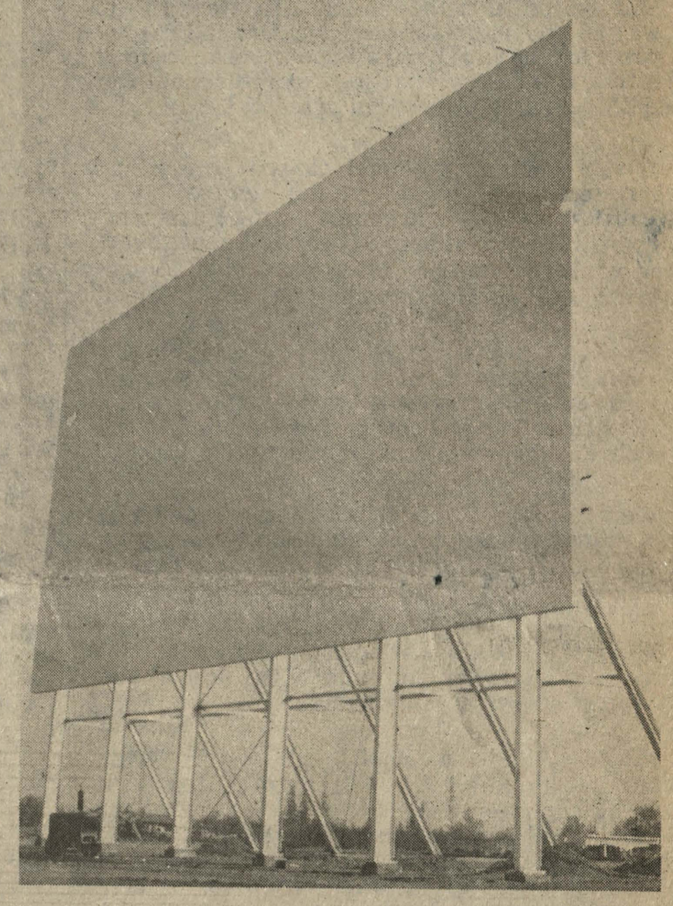
He cited that the proposed civic center is "anchored" now in the core of downtown as a result of various studies that were initiated by the committee. The committee also directed attention to the importance of the elementary school property now occupied by West Valley College in any future development plans.

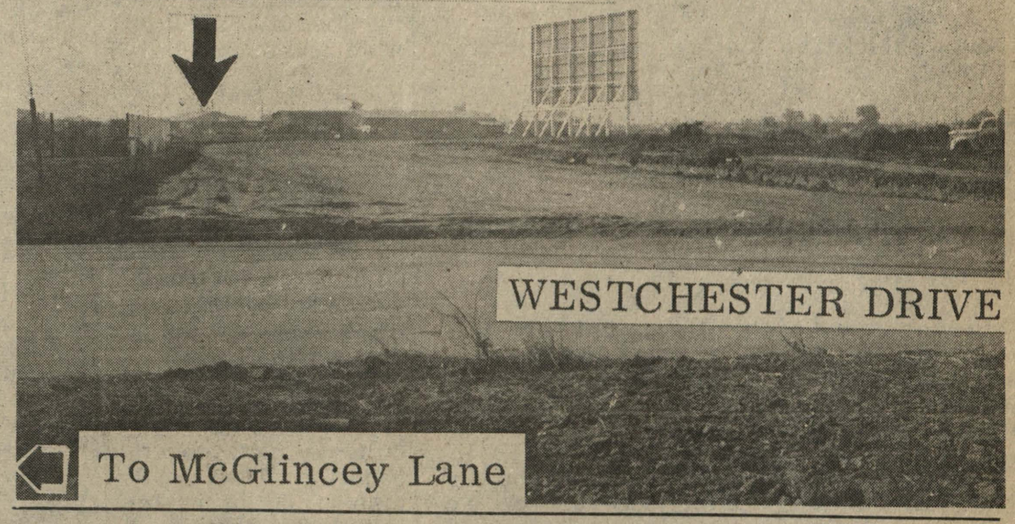
JOHN FABER --chairman

Faber emphasized that his committee, which was originally appointed by the city, strongly supported the beautifying as well as widening the street.

He voiced disappointment that the parking district could not be formed at this time. He explained that the assessments on the now shrunken district would be too heavy on the property owners to justify any such parking district.

City Manager Bob Stephens, before the meeting, said that the city had not taken any definite steps in the improvement of Campbell Ave. while there was any possibility that a parking district would





Planners approve modern mobile home park here

A modern mobile home park to be located off Union Ave. on a 12 1/2-acre parcel received the green light of the Planning Commission on Monday night when a use permit was granted to Maclyn Morris for such a development.

Before the commission granted the use permit, Morris showed "movies" of two modern parks that he and his family own, the "Golden Wheel" in San Jose and "Trade Winds" in Capitola, both parks are rated as the finest in the field, he said.

Morris explained that there is a vast difference between transient "trailer camps" and the modern concept of the mobile home park. He said that mobile homes cost from $10,000 to $25,000.

He admitted that he would prefer not to have the drive-in theater adjacent to the park, but, he felt that the area needed a park and that it could be successful even with the auto theather nearby.

Under the city ordinance, a mobile home park can be per-

Council hears about traffic

Traffic conditions in Campbell, both pedestrian and vehicular, are expected to spotlight the City Council meeting next Monday, Nov. 14.

Reports will be made to the council by City Manager Bob Stephens and Bill Wren, director of public works, as to possible solutions to the vexing problem involving pedestrians crossing the heavily-traveled San Tomas Expressway at Campbell Ave. which has worried parents of school children in that area.

Wren is also scheduled to report the results of a huddle with James Pott, county public works director, on how best to improve the traffic entanglement at the Camden-expressway intersection which has greatly compounded since two expressway lanes were opened.

Stephens is also expected to make a recommendation as to how downtown Campbell Ave. should be improved based on the actions of the Downtown Development Committee which met this morning and was ex-

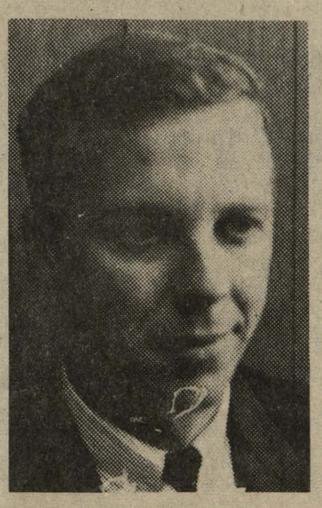
Membership campaign

C. of C. starts big drive

Campbell Chamber of Commerce will launch the "presidential sweepstakes", a three-day concentrated membership drive under the leadership of Lee Sicard and Ken Mantle on Monday, Nov. 14, according to Dick Hardy, C. of C. president.

New members gained during the three-day drive will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce at monthly membership luncheon on Thursday, Nov. 17.

KEN MANTLE



LEE SICARD

The "presidential sweepstake drive" will start with a breakfast at Luoto's in the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center on Monday, at 7:30 a.m., Nov. 14 when the "ambassadors" will gather.

Sicard and Mantle, the directors who head the membership "ambassador" committee, will introduce the "ambassadors", who will outline the objectives of the drive and will provide them with the prospect cards that will be on hand.

Prizes will be awarded the "ambassadors" obtaining the most members during the three days.

Editorial

"Jack C. Fischer School"

The Campbell Press wholeheartedly supports the request of residents of the San Tomas area that the name of the San Tomas School in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District be changed to the "Jack C. Fischer School", in tribute to Jack Fischer who served 13 years as the school's principal.

Fischer, one of the most popular school administrators in this community's history, died on Sept. 26 at the age of 47 after a lengthy illness.

His untimely death shocked the entire community. Although the San Tomas School was Jack's special province, all of Campbell benefited by his wholesome attitude to his adopted community.

But there is no question that his loss hit the San Tomas area the hardest, for as one of the residents of that area pointed out in urging the name-change of the school, "we all thought of the school as Jack Fischer's School anyway all these years, so the name-change would merely make it official."

We agree.

We also agree in principle with the policy that has been established in the Campbell school district which names schools after the streets on which they are located.

Not only does such a policy help locate the school but it avoids any sticky controversies that could arise over the honoring of a single individual.

But we feel that the board of trustees of the school district can easily justify the name-change for the San Tomas School because Jack Fischer was such a vital part of the school for the 13 years he served as principal.

There will be some who will argue that sentiment has no place in the picture today. We differ with this viewpoint, for we are convinced that there is a place for sentiment. And we don't mind one bit being tabbed a sentimentalist on occasions such as this.

We believe sincerely that re-naming San Tomas School as the "Jack C. Fischer School" would be a proper tribute to the memory of an individual who contributed so much to the school and the community during the 13 years.

We are pleased to join with the residents of San Tomas and the entire community in urging the school district trustees to make the name-change.

It would be a fitting memorial to a man whose loss to the community has left a void that may never be filled again.

While we concede that if this name-change was really to be put on a "formal" basis, it probably would be the "Jacob C. Fischer School". We also emphasize, however, that the informal "Jack" fits the man we want to honor much better. "Jack" implies the lack of ostentation that was such a part of his make-up.

And we think that Jack would like it better that way.

For better understanding

The Campbell Police Department has scheduled another of its classes for citizens on Tuesday, Nov. 15.

The objective of the classes is to create a better understanding of the law inforcement agency and how it can fulfill its obligation in making the community a better and safer place in which to live and work.

It is an excellent program and all who can should take advantage of this opportunity. We sincerely believe that there is a definite need to improve the public understanding of law enforcement. There is also a need for the public to learn of its responsibility in the field.

Chief of Police John Morgan as the "professor" of the classes, has done an outstanding job in preparation, and his presentation compares favorably with the best instructors.

He has managed to remove the smoke screen from many areas which people have been confused about...and he does it in a manner in which the "students" can understand. He also answers many questions that have bothered people about "cops".

Those who have attended the classes are enthusiastic about the program.

Especially popular is the "field trips". Each person attending the class has the opportunity of accompanying an officer on his "beat" for three hours. The times for the field trips are scheduled for the citizen-student's convenience.

We suggest that if you have not yet taken advantage of this opportunity, contact the police department and enroll in the next class.

You will be the gainer.

hand, the youngsters tripped out.

The commissioners then continued with their meeting.

We wondered what would have happened if Barbara didn't have the candy on hand...

Would the commissioners then have been forced into doing "tricks"?

The commission is generally faced with enough tricky questions in a routine meeting to take care of every Halloween and then some.

HALLOWEEN ACTIVITIES in Campbell, we have learned, were on the whole fairly routine, although Joan, the police clerk, reported that something like 30 calls were received mostly under the general heading of malicious mischief.

By the way, the little people who called on the planning commission had first stopped at the police department for goodies...voluntarily.

But at the same time, however, in the basement were four teenagers who were not there unfortunately on a volunteer basis. They had over-indulged with Halloween spirits.

YET ON THE whole Campbell's Halloween was relatively quiet.

True there were a number of egg-throwing incidents recorded which the community could have gotten along without. But apparently egg-tossing was "IN" this year all over the country.

There seems to be a definite need in this community for an outlet for the traditional Halloween enthusiasm for teenagers.

This community should be able to provide it.

Something better than eggs, we had in mind.

IF THOSE TAX BILLS which made their way into the mailboxes during the past few weeks have caused more than the usual quota of groans, that is to be expected.

Were you expecting cheers?

Each tax bill recipient received along with his notice, a little brochure from the county supervisors explaining how the tax dollar was divided.

The objective apparently was to show that just because the county collects the taxes, the county really wasn't the main villian in the act.

It showed that county was only snaring 22.2¢ of the buck. Cities were getting 12¢, special districts 5.2¢ and school districts a whopping 60.6¢.

The little booklet, with appropriate illustrations, also showed what services the county share paid for, i.e. public protection; public assistance; public works; recreation/education; general government.

WE IMAGINE one of the purposes was to sort of soften the blow of the tax raise the supervisors put into effect this year.

Some of these "services" that the county lists have been taken over in some instances by the other agencies sharing in the tax dollar.

Take "public protection" for example. The County's area shrinks each year as cities expand their boundaries and provide their own law enforcement. But the county's "public protection" budget keeps going up.

While we doubt that the county 'explanation" of how the tax dollar is sliced will make paying taxes any easier, it is incomplete the way it was done this year.

If we are going to get such booklets with our tax bill, let's get the entire picture.

THE SCHOOL districts and the cities also should have equal time to present how they use their share of each tax buck we pay.

There are only 100 cents in each dollar to divide.

That hasn't been changed.

But the way it is going, just give 'em time.

circular concession stand.

A close-up of the huge screen appears below and the lower picture with the arrows shows where the city limits of Campbell are located about 200-feet from Westchester Dr., which cuts into McGlincey Ln. Both streets are within the city limits of Campbell.

The county has jurisdiction over the property where the theater is being built and has issued the necessary permits over Campbell's protests.

But the access roads are within the city limits of Campbell and Campbell's zoning prohibits a drive-in theater in that location. Thus this city contends that it is illegal to use the roads for the theater.

Until the court decides if the access roads are part of the theater, a restraining order has prevented the improvement of the access roads (lower photo) within the city limits.

Meantime back at the ranch, work continues on the mobile theater. The huge 85-foot screen dominates the blacktopped complex. Almost completed also is the circular concession stand while the projection booth stands forlornly near the freeway.

mitted in any zone but the City Council has designated certain streets for such developments. Because Union Ave. had not been so designated, the commission recommended with the approval of the use permit that the Council add that street to the approved list.

The commission also approved application by Fred Sahadi for a zone change (from R-1-S to R-3-S) on property at 185 Union Ave. directly north and adjacent to the deluxe apartments that Sahadi owns. Sahadi told the commission that he hoped within two years to build the same type of apartments on the rezoned property.

The commission also gave approval to Ernest Cook for a use permit to allow a convenience market, dry-cleaning pickup and laundromat on property on Winchester Blvd. at Sunnyoaks.

A use permit was also granted Aldo J. Ricco to allow two dual gas pumps to be installed at the Rocket Car Wash at 1790 Winchester. Ricco told the commission that the gas pumps were necessary in order for his car wash operation to remain competitive in the field.

After closing the public hearing on a proposed text amendment to the C-1-S zoning ordinance which would eliminate further construction of residential buildings in commercial areas, the commission, on the motion of Kel Young deferred action on the amendment until the next meeting. Young said he needed more time to study the measure before voting on it.

The commission also set Dec. 5 as the hearing date for a proposed zoning change from M-1-S (industrial) to C-2-S on property on Hamilton Ave. on both sides of the freeway.

The commission also approved the plan line for the future extension of Latimer Ave. to Central Ave. as presented by Bill Wren, director of public works.

The commission approved all the recommendations made by the architectural review committee (Ed Pack and Thayer Lyons).

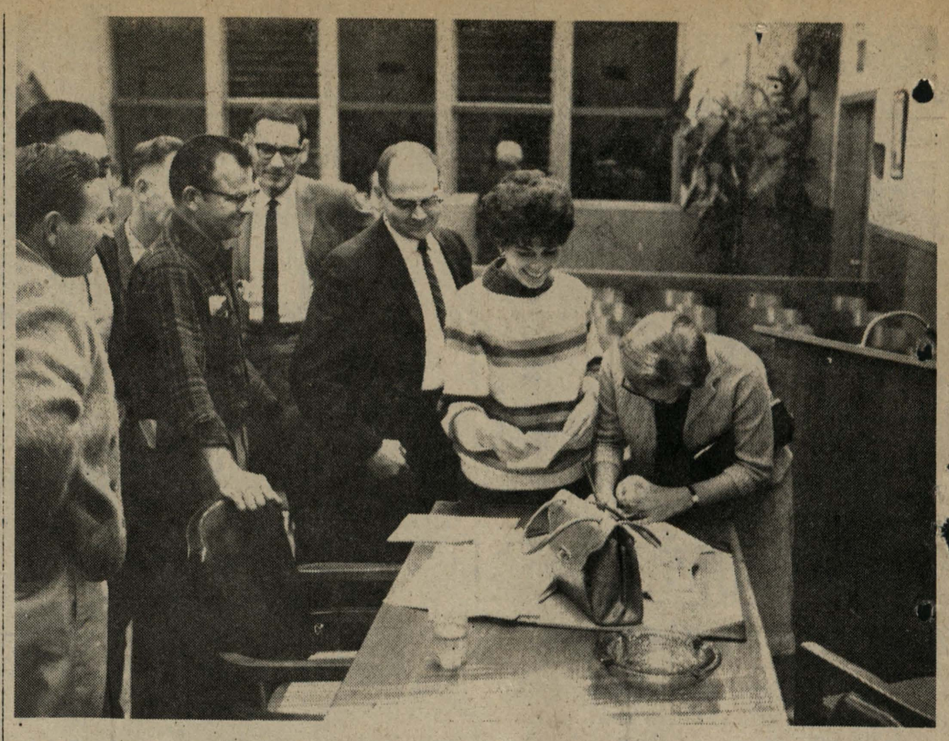
These included:

--GRANTING a six-months extension to Mrs. Madeline Atkinson on the approval of a 15-unit apartment at 240 Rose Ct.

--APPROVING four new signs: Dorothy M. Grace at 507 McGlincey Ln. "Canine Coiffures"; Stewart L. Williams, 861 Camden, adding to existing pole sign: Ad Art for Plaza Theatre at 2501 Winchester and Deacon Jones (take-out-foods) at 2495 Winchester.

--APPROVING a service station for James L. Thompson in P-D zone at Marathon and W. Hamilton.

--APPROVING office and cabinet shop at 1600 Dell Ave. for G & J Quality Cabinet Shops.



SIGNING UP--Pictured registering for the Nov. 14 class conducted by the Campbell Police, are a group of citizen-students. The Tuesday night class will be the last in the current series, with a new schedule of classes to be announced in December.

"Students" can take part in three hours of "field work" when they actually ride the beats with the police officers. Those interested in enrolling in the new classes scheduled for next month are asked to contact the police department.

be formed. He said that such a district would have a definite bearing on any street improvement.

With the dropping of plans for a district at this time, Stephens explained, the city could possibly transfer funds budgeted for less pressing needs to the Campbell Ave. job.

But the main point scheduled for discussion at the meeting this morning concerned how the improvement of Campbell Ave. should proceed and how ambitious it should be.

Stephens indicated that he felt that the improvement of Campbell Ave. should not only include the widening, where dedication of rights of way had been obtained, but also utilities in the area should be placed underground, new and attractive street lights should be installed and trees should be planted in designated areas.

Homes cost more today than they did in '63, but it costs less to keep them warm.

Housing, food, clothes and most everything in your cost of living—have gone up in the past three years. But in the same period, there have been five reductions in PG&E gas and electric rates.

So when you turn on PG&E energy for your comfort and convenience today—it costs you less. It's the biggest bargain in your family budget.

rates have dropped five times since '63.

This week found Miss Claus busily engaged in shopping the many stores in the Campbell Shopping Center at Winchester and Latimer, as the merchants there prepared for Santa's arrival on Saturday, Nov. 19.

Miss Santa Claus, remains something of a "mystery girl", coming on the scene as Santa's "front agent", as it were, to prepare things for his forthcoming visit. Miss Claus announced to all that Santa would be on hand from 10 a.m. to noon, and again from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m., Nov. 19. "Santa will allow Rudolph and his other reindeer to rest up for the "big" trip, and for this tour he will drive down through the main part of Campbell to the Campbell Shopping Center, through the courtesy of our own Fire Department, on their "vintage" fire-truck.

Visiting the merchants at the popular center (photos to the left) we see Miss Claus selecting "things" at the Sunshine Card and Toy Shop. Talking with Frank Goodner, president of the merchant's group, she learned that there will be several prize awards to be given at the BIG EVENT, details of which will be forthcoming in their formal announcement to the public.

Leaving Mr. Goodner to plan his group's celebration, Miss Claus ventured down the Mall to make her "calls" on other merchants, and find out if they were "ready". Her second stop was for a slight trim from Leroy Adkins at the Esquire Barber Shop; then on to see the hairdos at Si Jolie Coiffures and meet lovely Miss Judy Love, receptionist at the beauty counter; on to check on Santa's suit at the Irish Washerwoman and meet Si Kulas, proprietor; then a stop at the Sparkle Clean Shop to prepare the toy sack and have Earl Watson, (not pictured here) the owner, give her proper instructions; into Grant Bringhurst's Laurel Variety Store for a selection or two from the multitude of gifts available.

Of course one must decorate for Christmas, so Miss Claus received instructions from Gene Clemens, manager of Walker Paint, for tinting or spraying Christmas trees; a visit to Campbell Drugs and Pharmacy found her receiving advice from L.E. "Bill" Means for mailing his Hallmark cards, EARLY!; next, a visit to Erwin Klockemann's Pet Supply suggested a present for Rudolph; finding all of this "effort" ennervating, Miss Claus stopped off at the Donut Mart where pretty Michelle Moede treated her to one of her father's "scrumptious" doughnuts; again on her way, Miss Claus stopped for a "peek" at the gift packages available at the Winchester Liquors where Bob Lucas gave her a "hint" of what Santa might enjoy...after making his rounds, Christmas Day!

8. Better mail those cards early!

9. Ah, an artificial Bonsai tree for "Rudolph"

10. This early shopping does make one hungry.

11. Yes, Santa WILL be tired...and thirsty!

12. Well...on with the work. Only 45 days until...!

Christmas craft classes at "Y"

In preparation for Christmas, the Cambrian Center of the San Jose YWCA is offering a class in draped figures, it was announced today by Mrs. Leo Sarter, Center director.

These are the type of figures used in Nativity scenes during the holiday season, she said. Instructor will be Mrs. Arthur Phillips. Classes will be from 12:30 until 2:30 p.m. Nov. 14, 16, 21 and 23.

Registration is open at the Center, 4343 Leigh Ave., phone 269-7534.

Club members make flowers

Tissue paper flowers will be on the agenda when the Blossom Valley Garden Club meets on Wednesday, Nov. 16 at the home of Mrs. Charles Woods, 2888 Lantz Ave., San Jose.

Members will gather at 10 a.m. and will bring a sack lunch. The co-hostesses, Mmes. Kenneth McDonald and Thomas Hiland, will furnish coffee and dessert. The club garden consultant will give timely garden tips. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Women's Society plans meeting and luncheon

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Campbell Methodist Church will meet on Thursday, Nov. 10, for a general business meeting. The day will begin with a devotional period at 9:30 a.m. in the chapel, followed by a business meeting and program in the Fireside Room.

Mrs. William Eshnaur is chairman of the program and will present a play entitled "The Christian and Culture." Taking part in the play will be Mmes. Harry Burke, Robert Renfer and Dan Allison.

Luncheon will be served by the Martha Coy Circle at 12:15 in the Fellowship Hall.

CARD PARTY

The Home Economics Club of Orchard City Grange will sponsor a card party and "Gift and Thrift Sale" on Friday, Nov. 11, from 2 until 5 p.m. in the Grange Hall, 109 N. First St., Campbell. Refreshments will be served.

PROCLAMATION--Mayor Ralph Doetsch (seated) signs the proclamation designating Nov. 14-20, as Youth Appreciation Week in Campbell while Oran Slaght, president of the Campbell Optimist Club looks on.

The Optimist International is dedicated to promoting community-wide recognition of the overwhelming majority of the youth of the country who are constructive and responsible citizens. Each fall the Optimists set aside a special week when all citizens can join the club members in expressing their pride in achievements, of the young people.

PTA

MOORPARK

Mrs. Elaine Hendricks, Campbell District librarian, will be the guest speaker of Moorpark P.T.A. Nov. 15. Moorpark also welcomes Mrs. Cassell of the Blind Center.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 in the Moorpark Cafetorium with the fifth grade parents hosting.

Moorpark is having a Book Fair Nov. 14-23 and all guests are invited to inspect the books before or after the meeting.

Clothes stolen

Trouble came double for a 16-year-old Campbell youth this week. A thief entered the bedroom of his home while he and his brothers and sisters were being cared for at the Children's Shelter and stole all of his school clothes. The children's mother was in the hospital. Missing are several pairs of Levis, sweaters and shirts. An investigation is being conducted by Campbell Police.

Campbell and Westmont compete for second place in WVAL

Warrior World

by RUSS LONG

Parents of Westmont students will get a chance to go "Back to School" tonight, visit the classes attended by their children during the day. After attending the classes refreshments will be served in the cafeteria, along with an opportunity to talk to the teachers individually.

Tickets for the Senior play, "The Tea House of the August Moon," starring Harlan Edson and Bob Gunter, are on sale. Tickets can be purchased from any senior or at lunch, for either Thursday, Friday, or Saturday night, Nov. 17, 18 or 19.

This Friday the Warriors meet Campbell on the Buccaneer field. The winner of this game will be in a tie with Saratoga for second place in the West Valley Athletic League.

BIG GAME

Although the big game of the year is traditionally on Thanksgiving Day, for the past two years the big game has been between Campbell and Westmont. The rivalry between these two schools stems from the fact that many Campbell students came to Westmont three years ago when Westmont first opened. Ever since, there has been a strong rivalry, in sports, speech and debate, spirit and more strongly, between the marching bands.

Each year when the two football teams clash, not only is there a contest to see which team is better, but at the half the bands battle it out, each trying to outdo the other. This Friday that battle commences at 11 a.m. on the Campbell field.

Last Friday the Warriors kept their hopes alive with a shakey 14-6 win over visiting Blackford.

Dominating the first half, the Warriors scored two touchdowns in the second quarter when Greg Wiles hit Ross Garrison for a 35-yard score. Later in the same period Harry Wright romped in from five yards out.

Wiles, a senior quarterback, connected on eight of nine passes for 119 yards while Wright picked up 103 yards on 21 carries.

Del Mar Dateline

by LINDA DEL GRANDE

The freshman class held their reception Monday, Oct. 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the cafetorium.

The reception's purpose was to acquaint the parents with Del Mar's studies and extra curricular activities.

Mr. Hines, frosh counselor; Mrs. Greenly, representative from the P.T.A.; Mr. Dyer, extra curricular activities and Mr. Maxfield, director of education were the speakers at the Freshman Reception.

SADIE HAWKINS DANCE

The Sadie Hawkins Dance, "Pea Pickin' Panic" was held Friday, Nov., 4 from 8:30 to 11:30 in the cafetorium.

The girls were to make corsages for their dates out of candy and vegetables. They also were required to open doors, get refreshments, and ask the boys to dance.

The main event of the dance was the crowning of Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner. Marryin' Sam was also present to perform marriage ceremonies and give each couple a ring and a "marriage license".

The music was provided by "The Last Exit to Brooklyn."

BACK TO SCHOOL

The annual back-to-school night was held Wednesday, Nov. 2 from 7:30 to 10:30. During the evening parents followed their child's schedule, met his teachers, and heard about the different courses Del Mar has to offer.

Each period was twelve minutes long and there were seven minute breaks between the classes.

After the classes were over, parents assembled in the cafeteria and were served refreshments.

Friday, Nov. 4, Del Mar lost to Saratoga. The Saratoga football team beat Del Mar by 19-6.

Register now for ROTC test

Lt. Col. Carl W. Ivie, professor of military science at San Jose State College has announced that high school seniors planning to apply for the Army's four-year ROTC scholarships should register immediately for College Entrance Examination Board testing to be conducted Dec. 3.

Registration may be accomplished through regular school channels with a late registration fee of $2.50 until Nov. 12.

High school students qualifying for the scholarship program may attend any one of the 247 colleges and universities in the United States offering the four-year Army ROTC courses. The scholarships provide financial assistance to students interested in obtaining a Regular Army officer's commission. Each award pays for the student's tuition, cost of textbooks, laboratory fees, and $50 per month subsistence allowance for the duration of the scholarship, except for a six-week summer camp during which the student is paid at the rate of $151.95 a month.

Application forms and detailed information on the four-year scholarship program may be obtained by residents of California, by writing a letter of request to the Commanding General, Sixth U.S. Army, Attention: AMAGR-SCH-4, Presidio of San Francisco, Calif. 94129. There is a Jan. 15, 1967, deadline for the filing of completed applications.

HEALTH GROUP

The National Health Federation of Santa Clara County will meet Friday, Nov. 11, at 7:30 p.m., at the Sumitomo Bank upstairs, 515 N. First St., San Jose. There will be a guest speaker and a social hour. Visitors are welcome. For more information telephone 293-4477.

Three from Campbell enroll at Cal campus in Santa Cruz

Lester Cohen, Teri Corn, and Robert Kemp of Campbell are among the 1294 students who filled the "academic corridors" of the University of California's year-old campus at Santa Cruz for the fall quarter, according to Registrar Howard B. Shontz.

Along with the 524 "veterans" of last year's pioneering adventure, UCSC has admitted 743 new undergraduate students from more than 3000 who applied. An additional 27 students launched the graduate program at UCSC this year.

According to Shontz, "The campus continues to attract top students." Included in the 1966-67 undergraduate registrations are 64 State Scholarship holders, 5.1% of the 905 State total.

Santa Cruz' yearling, "community of scholars" in the liberal arts has excited interest in all parts of the academic world with its concept of relatively small residential colleges collected within the framework of a great State university.

Undergraduate students will live for the first time this year in their colleges. Construction on the first two of some 20 planned academic-residential colleges was completed in time for the opening of the fall quarter. On-campus student members of Cowell College, which opened academically in 1965, lived in trailers last year. Stevenson College went into operation both academically and physically this fall. Crown College will open in 1967, and construction plans are now underway for colleges 4, 5 and 6.

Deadline nears for NROTC exam

The deadline date for making application for the Regular NROTC qualifying examination is fast approaching. Applications must be received by the Educational Testing Service on or before Nov. 18, 1966. Applicants will participate in the nationwide competitive examination on Dec. 10, the only date on which the examination will be given, as the first step toward a college education and a regular commission in the naval service.

All tuition, fees, and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives a subsistence allowance of $50 per month for not more than four years. During each summer between his college years, a midshipman participates in interesting training cruises.

High school seniors and graduates who will be entering college in September 1967 and who will be at least 17 but not 21 years of age by 1 July 1967 may apply for the Navy College Aptitude Test.

Applications for the NCAT are available at local high schools and Navy Recruiting Stations.

Camden swimmers earn medals

Three Camden Swim Club members earned medals at the San Bruno Swimming Team Age Group "B" Meet held October 29 and 30 at the Crestmoor High School pool in San Bruno.

Tom Hale, swimming in the 11-12 age group, won a gold medal in 50 yd. breaststroke, in a 3-way tie for first place. Kenneth Buller won the gold medal for 200 yd. free in the 10 and under age group. Mark van Keulen, swimming with boys 8 and under, won a silver medal in a tie for second place in 25 yd. breaststroke. The three boys all swam "A" times in their events.

Campbell Crier

by DAVE TURNER

Of course the item of utmost importance in the mind of every student at present is the four-day week brought on this week by the first holiday of the year, Veterans' Day. Many of the students will show up at school anyway as the big game with Westmont will be played at 11:00 a.m. on that day. Both teams will carry 3 and 1 records into the encounter so its bearing on the league is not small. But possibly more important than this, the present seniors, the class of '67, will be facing many of the fellows who were their classmates as freshmen, before the opening of Westmont. With this added sentimental value, the stakes of this game are indeed high.

"BACK TO SCHOOL"

"Back to School Night" is the feature of tonight's P.T.A. meeting. Scheduled to begin promptly at 7:30 p.m., the affair will provide a chance for parents to acquaint themselves with the courses their offspring encounter each day. Parents will follow the same schedule their progeny follow daily with a ten minute break between each class of the same length.

CAMPUS ECHO

The Campus Echo, Campbell's campus newspaper, is offering a seven dollar prize to the student who can come up with the best name plate for that publication. The task involves displaying the paper's name in an attractive pattern which may be used to head each edition. Obviously the job requires a little artistic talent in addition to imagination. The handsome reward alone may be enough to inspire a winner.

The Buc gridders continued their winning ways as both teams had relatively easy victories over Camden last week. The final Soph-Frosh score was 39 to 6, while the scoreboard showed our varsity on top 27-14 at the sound of the final gun. And don't forget - 11 a.m., Friday, Nov. 11 - Campbell vs. Westmont at Buc Stadium in "the big game."

IN GERMANY

Army Private First Class Frank O'Neal Jr., 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Neal, 61 Jane Ann Way, Campbell, participated in a three-week field training exercise conducted throughout western Germany.

JUNIORS HIT HIGH:

Camden juniors made $6000 in its annual magazine drive. The drive which began Oct. 20, officially ended Nov. 1. Any junior who sold three or more subscriptions was honored at an "all you can eat" pizza party held last Friday night at Shakey's.

The three high salesmen for the drive were: Fred Pifer, Herb Yuki, and Dave Shaeffer, junior president. The boys sold $112.44; 101.25 and 100.16 respectively. Their prizes were awarded at the Pizza Party.

Oct. 25 the juniors held a drawing and gave long-playing albums to Sam Kaeding, Dave Pecota, and Barbara Castro. Anyone who had sold one subscription was eligible for this drawing.

The money for this drive will help pay for the juniors future activities as both juniors and as seniors.

SWIM TEAM WINS:

Camden's G.A.A. swim team chalked up another win against Blackford Oct. 27. The girls receiving first place were: L. McDermott, C. Barnes, D. Towne, T. Lopes, S. Soulsby, T. Galloway, C. Brick, S. Hartly, K. Fernandez, and G. Newton. The A.G.A. finals were held Nov. 5 at Camden.

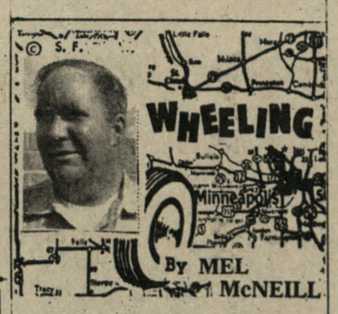
TENNIS WINS AGAIN:

Camden's G.A.A. tennis team finished up the season with a tie over Los Gatos Nov. 3. The team finished the season with five wins, one loss, and one tie record. Tuesday, Nov. 1, Camden volleyed to victory over Leigh with final scores 8-3.

Carol and Cathy Bradford, two Camden juniors, finished up the season undefeated. The tennis finals were held Nov. 5, and the main finals Nov. 8.

FRENCH DESSERTS TAKE THE PRIZE:

Linda Huddle, Camden Senior, won $25 in the Teen Cook contest sponsored by Coed Magazine. In the spring Linda wrote in and asked for a French dessert. Besides winning the $25, Linda also won an electric broiler for Camden.



Mr. Car Owner can save himself quite a spot of cash if he's careful about wheel alignment on his automobile, whether it be the latest glamour boat or the reliable Old Faithful. Misalignment tears tires apart and puts a terrific strain on bearings and steering linkage. And it gets worse if the condition isn't remedied. There are, however, preventive measures that can be taken to avoid misalignment. First park carefully; don't bang the curb. Second, don't let parking attendants drive your car on curved ramps as if they were stock-car racers... This puts a sharp side thrust to the wheel. And last, watch your inflation; keep it even...

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

In each two year span, I write 104 issues of ON CAPITAL HILL. One hundred and three of them are written with varying degrees of difficulty. But the 104th --this one--is by far the most difficult. This issue must be set in type by election date. Nov. 8, but it won't be read until the votes have been counted and the winners determined.

Though I have reasonable expectations of being re-elected, a glowing victory statement will look ridiculous if I lose. Conversely, I can't enthusiastically write about losing.

Faced with such a dilemma, two days after the last election and 728 days before the next one, this might be a good time to give you the innermost candid feelings of a candidate whose career is at stake in a re-election campaign.

An incumbent has some advantage if he has done a reasonably good job. He has had the benefit of contact with the people he represents, and the prestige of being in offices usually outweighs the brickbats that come with it. On the other hand, the candidate who is "out" has no record to defend and is not tied down to doing the job he was elected to do at a place three thousand miles from his constituency.

Legislation and voting records are such complicated matters that a candidate with no great intellectual scruples can find "evidence" to prove almost anything. A few weeks ago President Johnson made the statement that by voting for "motions to recommit" some members of Congress vote to "kill" bills. As a longtime legislator, the President knew better. He knew that a motion to recommit with instructions is merely an effort to amend a bill and make changes in it. When Republicans attacked the President's statement in House debate, he was defended by the Democratic Whip, Representative Hale Boggs (D-La.). Yet on the very next day Boggs voted to recommit the Supplemental Appropriations bill and by so doing voted against (by the President's standards) such things as the Veterans Administration, the space program, and expenditures for Vietnam. In my own case, I have been accused during this campaign of voting against the "Head Start" program --a principle which I strongly favor. The truth is that I voted against the poverty program, one small part of which included the Head Start program and it was not possible to separate the issues. My vote was about like refusing to buy a 100# sack of potatoes because 99# were spoiled. In 1964 I voted against the Elementary and Secondary Education Act on grounds that the allocation formula was faulty. Since then, after improvements in the law, I supported the Act on several occasions. Yet I was accused of voting against education.

I've often hoped that a fair and objective review board could screen statements made at campaign time and expose exaggerations and distortion. But the most reliable review board--the voting public--will make its decision at the polls--and this is where it counts!

Obituaries

MRS. FLORENCE BRADLEY

Funeral services were held Sunday at the West Valley Chapel in Los Gatos for Mrs. Florence Harriet Bradley, 71, who died at a San Jose Hospital after a brief illness. Mrs. Bradley, a widow, resided at 307 Kuehnis Dr. She was born in Tekoa, Wash. She worked for Lockheed Aircraft in Burbank during World War II, and came to the Santa Clara Valley in 1960.

Mrs. Bradley is survived by two sons, Albert R. Mays of Santa Cruz, and Ray E. Mays of Alturas; two daughters, Mrs. Maxine McLaurine of Los Gatos and Mrs. Marguerite Coffey of Los Gatos, five grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Pearl Atchison of Tucson, Ariz. Entombment was in Port Orchard, Wash.

Church welcomes 54 new members

The West Valley United Church of Christ (Congregational) received 54 new members in a special candlelight service conducted by Rev. Donald F. Blanchette Sunday, Nov. 6.

A responsive litany was recited between members and the minister who also extended the hand of fellowship. The West Valley United Church meets at the Campbell Country Woman's Club, 274 E. Campbell Ave., every Sunday morning at 10 a.m. Interested persons are cordially invited to attend the services.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT --AND FOR PLANTS

Whenever you hear someone complain that he just doesn't have a green thumb, the chances are good that what he really lacks is an understanding of the role of fertilizer in the garden. With the proper feeding, any plant will make a green thumber out of you.

This seems elemental, but it's apparent in any neighborhood that gardeners overlook the improtance of food. You see it in struggling lawns, weak-looking plants, and roses that don't bloom half so profusely in one garden as in the garden next door. Occasionally this can be blamed on soil conditions which lock food up and won't release it to the plants; but more often that not it can be blamed on non-feeding.

Plants need nitrogen, phosphorous, potash and various trace elements to thrive. You can overfeed, especially with nitrogen, but you can't overemphasize the need.

PLANT FOOD

Perhaps if one understands what the various components of plant food do, he will understand better why he uses them. The California Association of Nurserymen tells us that nitrogen produces the lush stems and foliage needed to manufacture starches and sugars needed by the plant tissues. It also keeps the growth succulent and tender--a fact of prime importance to vegetable gardeners. Phosphorus is needed to ripen tissues formed by the work of nitorgen; it helps to mature plant growth; develop choice flowers and fruit. Potash helps to utilize starches and develop strength in young plants. A plant with ample potash available to it is much healthier and more resistant to disease than plants lacking in this important element.

Both organic and chemical fertilizers are available to supply these needs--some being compounded to make up for a specific lack, such as nitrogen. Visit a local C.A.N. nurseryman and let him take it from here.

Murray Banks speaks at WVC

"Bellevue and Bob Hope?"

If you find yourself asking what connection these two subjects have, attend West Valley College's presentation of Dr. Murray Banks' lecture, "What To Do Until the Psychiatrist Comes", at 8 p.m., Friday, Nov. 11. Described as having the combined personalities of Bob Hope, Red Skelton, Will Rogers, and Groucho Marx, this psychologist (who did his clinical psycho-pathology study at Bellevue Hospital in New York City) dissects the problems of every day life, adds a sugar coating of warmth and humor, and presents them to the audience.

This lecturer, as are the majority of lecturers presented by West Valley Colleges Office of Community Services, is open to the public at no charge. The address is West Valley College, 51 E. Campbell Ave.

Letters to the Editor

RENAME SCHOOL

Dear Mr. Vierhus:

Because of your moving editorial (on Oct. 5) in tribute to Jack Fischer, we thought you might be interested in printing the enclosed letter to the Campbell Union Elementary School Board in your "Letters to the Editor" column. Hopefully, it will stir people to express themselves by letters to the Board recommending the name change of San Tomas School to the Jack Fischer School and also to signing the petitions which will be circulated shortly requesting the change of name.

Sincerely,
Fran and Del Hack
1050 Lucot Way
Campbell, Calif.

Mrs. David Graham-Armstrong, president
The Campbell Union Elementary School Board

Dear Mrs. Graham-Armstrong:

At your October 6th Board of Trustees meeting, which we attended, it was suggested that The San Tomas School be renamed The Jacob Fischer School. This recommendation was tabled until the December 15th meeting--one of the reasons being that it was too soon after Jack's death to act without sentiment.

Now that we've thought it over--what's wrong with sentiment? Really, what better reason could there be for a name change? Those of us who are in favor of the change have thought of San Tomas School as Jack Fischer's school for a good many years anyway, and we will, of course, continue to think of it that way for many years to come.

It was because of Jack's dynamic personality that he won so much affection and respect. He was always interested in not only his students, their families, and their problems, but also interested in the community--to the point of being very involved in the lives and activities of both.

We are certainly not trying to put Jack on a pedestal--he would have been the first to laugh at that! It's just that, frankly, we are sentimental about him.

In this impersonal age which is breeding a race of humans who increasingly don't want to become involved, it is doubly important that we honor a man who became very involved and happily so, with his fellow man.

Since Jack refused to be stereotyped in his role as principal, why don't we follow his lead and simply and informally rename San Tomas School--The Jack Fischer School?

We strongly recommend that you reconsider and give your consent to renaming the San Tomas School to The Jack Fischer School as a very fitting tribute to a very special person.

Sincerely,
Fran and Del Hack

Adventists send disaster relief

Emergency food and clothing supplies for disaster victims in eight foreign countries, made available through sponsorship of the Campbell Seventh-Day Adventist Church, 65 E. Rincon Ave., are leaving the United States this week, Pastor Russell K. Krick of the local church announced today.

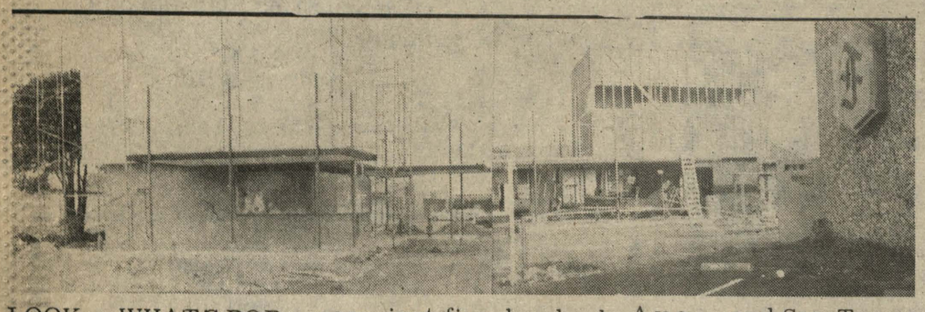
The disaster supplies, valued at $149,000 are going to Argentina, Chile, Peru, Burma, Assam, Korea, central Africa, and Guyana, Pastor Krick said.

Funds for the supplies, Pastor Krick noted, are made available through regular and special offerings contributed by Adventist churches and administered by the Seventh-Day Adventist Welfare Service, a world-wide disaster-relief organization which provides supplies and funds where needed without regard to race or creed.

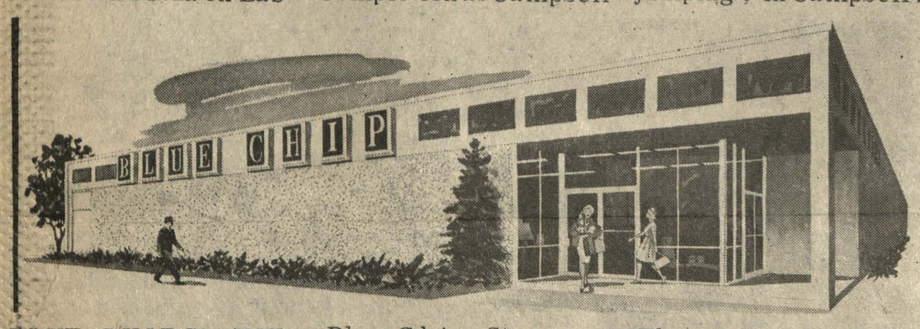
BUSINESS NEWS

NEWS ABOUT LOCAL BUSINESSES, AND BUSINESS PEOPLE

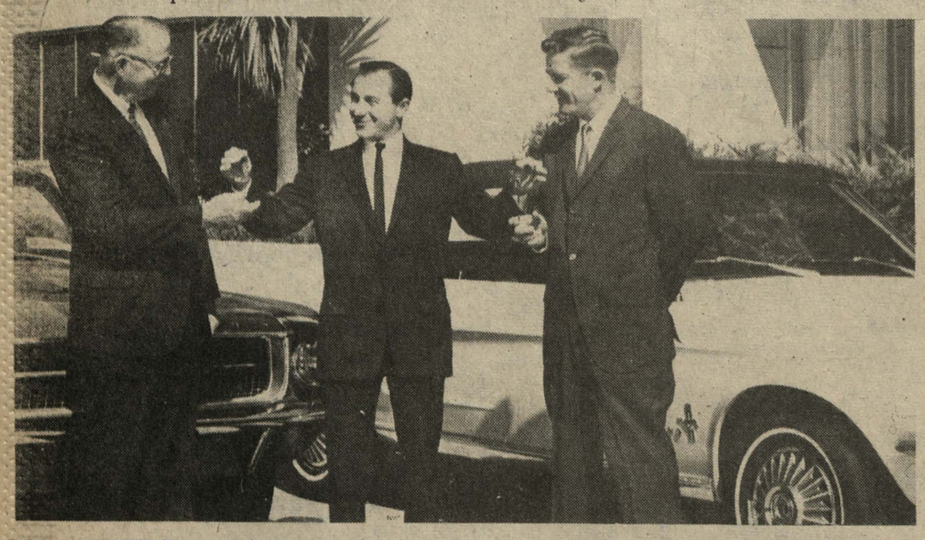
FREDDIE IS READY--The genial proprietor of "Freddie's" is preparing to launch into the "sea of business" very soon now...(like next week)... Freddie ...Freddie Schallich, that is, is no "Johnny-come-lately" to the dispensing of beverages to the Package Customer. His experience in pleasing the public runs back many years in this business, and this venture is a "culmination" of it all. The interior of this store is so unique, that it must be seen to be fully appreciated... Watch for the announcement... next week...and fill your eyes...with surprise!!!



LOOK...WHAT'S POP-IN UP!--Jack-in-the-Box Drive-ins, that's What! There is one nearing completion right now across from Hamilton Plaza on Bascom, just five-hundred feet south of Mel's Mobil Service Station at Hamilton intersection, and another one rapidly coming to completion at Campbell Ave., and San Tomas Aquino Rd., across from the Kirkwood Plaza, and right next to "Freddies". Things seem to be "really jumping", in Campbell!



BLUE CHIPS, ANYONE?--Local businessmen who are issuing Blue Chip Stamps to their customers presented this architect's drawing showing the new 12,000 square foot Blue Chip Stamp redemption store scheduled to open in late November at Lucretia and Story Rd., in San Jose. It will be the third Blue Chip redemption store in Santa Clara County. The store located at 350 SOUTH SARATOGA AVE., and Stevens Creek Blvd., will continue to serve trading stamp customers in this area.



BIG BUSINESS...PAYS OFF!--Allen S. Baughman, 838 Owen Dr., Campbell, (right) receives keys to a 1967 Mustang from Plant Manager C.A. Kiorpes (center). Paul Mahrt, 18373 Swarthmore Dr., Saratoga (left) also received a Mustang. The two men are the first salaried employees at the San Jose Ford Plant to receive the maximum award under the Management Proposal Plan.

Baughman proposed a new procedure for painting two-tone trucks and was made the recipient of the award at company ceremonies.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE--The Winchester Shopping Plaza at Winchester and Budd, has been a bee-hive of activity for several months now, preparing for the grand opening of the addition to its accomodations and now the rains have come to further dampen the progress. Despite the problems which every new enterprise runs up against, the new Plaza Theatre and the T. G.&Y. Store, WILL open with fan-fare and gala doings very soon now...(8 days...?)

WV College seeks federal funds for vocational courses

West Valley College's governing board last Thursday authorized the administration to file applications for $140,361 in federal grants under the Vocational Education Act of 1963. This sum, when matched with the district's computed share totaling $209,576, would make $349,937 available in eight vocational projects.

The projects include: drafting and technical illustration, $23,729; licensed vocational nursing, $37,446; medical assisting, $19,649; stenographers and general office clerks, $75,386; dean of vocational-technical education and staff, $24,610; data processing vocational education, $23,098; food service and restaurant management (construction project), $125,890; instructional materials laboratory, $20,129.

Dr. Wallace Hall, college president, pointed out, of the $209,576, which the district would have to commit in order to be eligible for the grants, about $125,000 was already budgeted, and thus would not have to be appropriated as "new money." Of the remainder, $62,945 would be capital construction (food services laboratory) and could be raised out of the district's special reserve fund, if the application was approved.

Under provisions of the same act during the spring of 1966, Hall pointed out, the college was awarded four of the five applications and realized a total of $97,155 in federal funds. Since July 1, 1965 approximately $215,000 in vocational education act funds has been committed for the district.

In other actions the board:

Approved financial claims totaling $26,822.

Saw a color-slide presentation by Thomas A. Devins, coordinator of the college's new program in food service and restaurant management.

Heard an explanation by Dean of Student Personnel Jerry H. Girdner of the State Board of Education's new standards in junior college requirements regarding graduation, probation and dismissal. West Valley requirements generally are above minimum requirements, Girdner said, and principal change in the state minimum requires that the student maintain a grade point average of 2.0 (C average) to escape probation, rather than the previous 1.5. The West Valley minimum has been 1.75 Girdner said.

Heard a report by Dr. Hall than an accreditation team from the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners will observe the licensed vocational nursing program at West Valley College on Nov. 16.

NEW TRUSTEE--Dr. Wallace W. Hall, (left), president of West Valley College, watches as Robert A. Sorensen signs his oath of office as member of the governing board of the college. The oath was administered by Dr. Hall. Sorensen, who resides at 973 Eden Ave., San Jose, in the Campbell Union High School District, was appointed to the board when Edward Panelli resigned upon moving out of the district. Sorensen is director of general services for Santa Clara County.

Rainfall total reaches 1.52"

Rain over the weekend brightened the Campbell rainfall picture by adding 1.17 inches to bring the total to 1.52 inches.

Compared to last year at this day, only .06 inches of rain had been recorded with a normal of 1.40 inches.

According to the Campbell Water company, current depths of the wells supplying Campbell, range from a low of 325 feet to 239 feet, which is still 20 to 40 feet lower than at the same time last year.

Increased water consumation plus a dry year have lowered the water table in spite of the imported water now being received through the South Bay Aqueduct system.

Texaco station hit by thieves

A Texaco Service Station at 371 E. Hamilton Ave. was burglarized of $175 in cash after business hours on Saturday, Nov. 5.

An attempt to pry open the front door was apparently unsuccessful, police reported, and the thief apparently smashed the glass and unlocked the door. Nothing else was disturbed, except the cash box and its contents, according to the police report.
